Tech Committee Report!

Hey everyone! This is the Tech Committee! If you didn't get the e-mail, Evan T. recently made an enormous update to the website. In other news, all of the computers work and smiley faces are incoming. Bye!

Literacy Committee Report!

Hey! It's the Literacy Committee here! We are putting lots of work into the checkout cards. They keep getting knocked over and messed up. Please take good care of them. We would really appreciate it. See you in the library.

Activities Committee Report!

Hello peeps! We have had numerous discussions with the Literacy Committee and among ourselves about our Halloween party and our next party. We have worked out fun activities for the people and will continue to do so all year long. Peace.

PR Committee Report!

The PR committee is moving forward at sonic speed. We have already finished our first fundraiser, for the American Cancer Society. We raised $121. We will be taking a break from fundraisers to focus on U.N.I.C.E.F. The PR Committee also took over the project of decorating the classroom for Halloween, with the help of several individuals in the class from other Committees. As a heads up, the next fundraiser we will be doing after U.N.I.C.E.F. is Heifer. The PR committee would like to thank everyone who donated to the American Cancer Society, and everyone who helped us decorate for Halloween. Thanks everyone!

Facilities Committee Report!

Currently, we have completed the Lost and Found bin, the classroom clocks, the plant condition poster, and have hung boilerplates on the bulletin boards. Some possible future projects include: Hanging and laminating the Go Noodle certificate with everyone's drawings underneath it. Congrats Bart Reynolds! Organizing the shelves with the paper and printers on it to make it more accessible and organized, adding a container under the hanging plant so water doesn't get on the computer beneath it, and heads up PR committee! We would like to work with the PR committee to unroll the banner in our doorway. We are open to ideas and will take suggestions from our peers! Just email the committee chair, Ella, at earappel@cps.edu. Thanks!

The Bart Reynolds Coloring Competition!

Wow, were these submissions good! We received many, all with their different take on the drawing. Choice of colors are the deciding factor of whether you made the top three or not. While all the entrees were fantastic, three stood out to us in an incredible way.

We're starting the list off with a very comedic, unique, and epic take on Bart Reynolds. Seemingly the internet condensed into one drawing, this abstract piece of art combines many popular memes. Pepe, John Cena, Doritos, and MLG are all there, and give the art a certain charm many fail to accomplish. It's very pleasing to look at, with its loud almost "in your face" additions to the GoNoodle star. Maybe not the neatest, it makes up for that fact with its diverse set of colors and hilarious attributes.

The second entry on our list uses a clean and clear palette of colors, obviously going for a different approach from others. Noticeably not as loud, it refines the fact with a very creative incorporation of previous forms of Bart Reynolds. The colors may appear dull on at first glance, but a cautious look reveals many beautiful pen designs that reek of something like doodles in a Middle-Schoolers math notebook. Overall, the drawing is a treat to look at, with a very clear path in mind for the artist.

This submission was so beautiful, a photo of the whole paper was required. The loud, vibrant rainbow theme of this piece complements the wonderful GoNoodle experiences we shared with Bart Reynolds perfectly. The color choice is fantastic, especially in Bart Reynolds himself, colors swirling together to create a beautiful, blended rainbow. This piece blew me away, in fact I quickly realized I had spent a good ten minutes getting lost in the wonderful art. Almost every speck is covered with incredible colors, and even when it's not, it only helps the already standing areas shine. It leaves us off on a high note with Bart Reynolds, indicating he'll never be forgotten by the classroom of 305.
